KCC Celebration Benefits Kensington Parks and Recreation

EUGENE J. MILLSTEIN & ASSOCIATES REAL ESTATE AND ANDRONICO'S MARKET SPONSOR ANNUAL EVENT

The Kensington Community Council held its 15th annual Spring Celebration party on March 23. The event, which raised $5,000 for KCC's recreational and educational programs including the Kensington Outlook, was generously underwritten by Eugene J. Millstein & Associates Real Estate and Andronico's Market.

Many members of the community donated goods and services to help make the event so special and successful. Silent auction donors included Arlington Pharmacy, Arlington Meat Market, Ted Blanckenburg, Boadecia's Books, Alex Brown, Patty and Leo Carrousel, Joanne De Phillips, Vida Dorroh, D and H Landscaping, Betty Anne and Barrie Engel, Barbara Fracchia, Dena Fredric, Aaron Gobler, Eileen Hammons, Phillip Haultcoeur, KCC, Elizabeth Kavalier, Kensington Flower and Gift Shop, Jeremy and Barbara Adair Knight, Lisa Ann Mazzocut, Wendy Morrison, Nation's Foodservice, Inc., Margie Richardson, Anne Stewart, Barbara Tapp, Carla Van Slyke, Jim and Dorothy Walker, and Ciara Wood.

Food and beverage donors included John Gossard, Arlington Wine and Spirits, Richard and Lori Mazzera of César, Paul and Marcia Massé of Massé's Pastries, Virginia Bakery, Nation's Foodservice, Inc., Linda Lettieri, The Junket, Shai's, and Inn Kensington.

In addition to publishing the Outlook, KCC sponsors the Kensington After School Enrichment Program (KSEP), the Summer Day Camp and classes for adults and children. The non-profit organization also improves and administers educational facilities in Kensington Park in conjunction with the KCSD. In 2002, KCC committed significant funding to the completion of the new Tot Lot in Kensington Park.

Kensington School Honored

At their regular meeting held on March 5, members of the board of trustees of the West Contra Costa Unified School District (WCCUSD) voted to recognize the schools that have met all of their growth targets on the California Department of Education Academic Performance Indices (API) for 2002. The California Department of Education has computed Academic Performance Indices (APIs) annually for all public schools since 1998. Kensington School was one of three schools in the district, including Madera and Valley View, that scored at or above the rigorous statewide performance index of 800.

Over 75 percent of elementary schools in the WCCUSD improved their overall school-wide Academic Performance Index (API) numbers in the 2002 API growth reports released on December 19 by the California Department of Education. Across the district, 31 of the 48 schools, or 64 percent, posted increases in their API numbers.

Kensington Fire Protection Update

The Kensington Fire Protection District (KFD) board of directors met on Wednesday, March 12. As reported in the March 2003 Outlook, KFD has authorized the purchase of a new fire engine. When it is delivered in late 2003/early 2004, the truck will be used as both a reserve engine and as a wild-land interface fire-fighting vehicle. In the meantime, the city of Richmond has offered to purchase the old 1983 Mack Type 1 fire-pumper for $4,000.00. Because the bid was at market rate and would allow Kensington to keep the truck until the new one is delivered, the KFD board voted to accept Richmond's offer.

KCC FUND DRIVE

THERE'S STILL TIME TO GIVE

If you enjoy receiving the Outlook in the mail 10 times per year, playing catch with your child or frisbee with your dog on the grass in Kensington Park, playing a game of tennis with friends on the courts, watching your child scramble up the new play structure, sitting on a park bench watching a sunset over the bay, or knowing that Kensington's children have a safe place to learn and play after school and during the summer, then you know the work of the Kensington Community Council.

The KCC board of directors would like to thank all those who have donated to the Annual Fund Drive so far. Every donation, from $10 to $1,000 is important. The end of the KCC fiscal year is coming soon. If you have been meaning to send your check and have not gotten around to it yet, please do so today. By the end of February, donations to the Annual Fund Drive were $1,500 below the $10,000 that was budgeted. The community thanks you.

Officer Shelly Crain, KPD.

Officer Crain Wins Award

At the March 13 meeting of the board of directors of the Kensington Police Protection and Community Services District (KCSD), General Manager Barry Garfield announced that Officer Shelly Crain had been selected as KPD's Officer of the Year. Kensington participates in the Albany-El Cerrito Exchange Club's Officer of the Year program. Each year each participating community's police department nominates one officer to receive the award. "It says a lot about an officer's abilities and work ethic to be chosen for this honor after only three years," said Garfield. Officer Crain joined KPD in April 2000. She has been very involved in crime prevention and public education programs.

Garfield reported on district actions that had been taken since the last meeting, including the repairs made to a fence around the Tot Lot structure. He also stated that he had received a bid of $3,470 for labor and materials to complete the needed repairs to the amphitheater behind the Community Center building. Due to concerns over safety, he requested the authorization to spend the money to make the repairs as soon as possible. Board members voted to revise the budget to include the expenditure.

KPOA Annual Meeting

Public Works and Zoning Ordinance to be Discussed

Gail Feldman, president of the Kensington Property Owners Association (KPOA) has announced that the group will hold its annual meeting on Thursday evening, May 29. Although the agenda is not set at this time, one of the topics to be discussed will be the proposed zoning ordinance. According to Feldman, the original working group met on March 18 and may be seeking additional technical review by architects and other industry professionals. The FAR provision (floor-area-ratio) in the ordinance also is being reviewed, taking into account existing square footage of homes in Kensington. She is anticipating refinement or changes to the proposal. Supervisor John Gioia's office is still planning to conduct an opinion survey by mail of each household before the end of April.

Marcia Osborn is organizing the event and can be reached at 524-1114.

Emergency Food Pantry Says Thanks!

Dear Editor:

Since 1971 the Richmond Emergency Food Pantry has opened its door, two days each week, to distribute nutritious food packages to West County's poor through a dedicated network of volunteers.

In the past few months there has been an increase in the number of people who come to the Pantry for emergency relief during these tough times. Not surprisingly, food expenses increased last year, government cut-backs increased, and donor drop-off due to attrition and economic hardship occurred. Concern was mounting among the volunteers.

Then the Pantry experienced another kind of increase; the number of people and organizations who made donations as well as the level of giving increased during the annual fund drive. Over 300 donors from Kensington, Emeryville, Berkeley, Richmond, Pinole and El Sobrante, rallied to the emergency request for financial support and gave the Pantry its most successful fundraising campaign ever.

The Pantry volunteers wish to acknowledge the generosity of these communities and to express our sincere gratitude to everyone who showed their belief in the Pantry and the service it provides.

Call or write to learn more, volunteer, receive food or donate: REFP, P.O. Box 2598, El Cerrito, CA 94530; 527-2783.

More Discussion Re: the Proposed Zoning Ordinance

Dear Editor,

I wish to comment on recent concerns expressed regarding the proposed Kensington zoning Ordinance. I was a member of the Working Group which drafted the ordinance, and since January of 2002 I have also been a member of KMAC.

The unique value of the proposed Ordinance is that it establishes clear guidance for proposed residential construction in Kensington which treats all residential properties uniformly. At present, larger parcels need only conform to the County R-6 requirements. Smaller parcels (the majority of Kensington's lots) must meet R-6 and must also demonstrate compatibility with neighboring residences. Simply put, there are TWO STANDARDS.

During my brief tenure on KMAC I have observed applications for new residences on both larger and smaller parcels. One example needed to consider neighborhood compatibility, and as a result it will fit neatly into the existing neighborhood. Another example did not need to consider compatibility; the resulting new residence will be grossly out of scale with the existing neighborhood.

It is inappropriate that there are two sets of standards guiding development in Kensington. The proposed ordinance will remedy this inequity. It's critical that we express our support for the proposed Ordinance to our Supervisor.

Dear Editor,

Supervisor Gioia is to be congratulated for seeking more input and for making changes in the proposed zoning ordinance (Ordinance) as may be warranted. As a result of objections, the Ordinance is now being re-examined. A technical advisory team is being appointed to look at the relationship between the qualitative and the quantitative standards. Also under review are the current FAR. Additional data on Kensington homes is being sought from the county.

In his letter to the Editor in the March 2003 Outlook, Supervisor John Gioia stresses the qualitative aspects of the Ordinance such as view and privacy protection, but fails to mention the guts of the Ordinance which are the restrictive rules [Floor Area Ratios (FAR)] which are applicable when existing houses are expanded or new houses are built. These quantitative restrictions are what most people are objecting to.

When the next draft of the Ordinance is presented to the community, it will need to be critically examined and debated. Hopefully, either the Kensington Property Owners Association or the Kensington Improvement Club will sponsor a debate in which the critics will be given the same time to make their case as the proponents.

While Supervisor Gioia now proposes to send out another survey, such surveys must be treated with skepticism and caution, especially when prepared by the advocates of the Ordinance. If a survey is to be conducted, it should be prepared by an independent third party. Better yet, forget another survey. Once a final version of the Ordinance is prepared, the community should be provided with arguments in favor of, and arguments against the Ordinance. Armed with this information, Kensington residents should be given the opportunity to vote “yes” or “no” on the Ordinance. If a majority votes “no,” the Ordinance should be dropped. If a majority votes “yes,” the Ordinance should then be submitted to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors for approval.

J. David Hertzner

Dear Editor,

In keeping with the clearly not objective representation proffered by “our” supervisor, let me begin as he has:

Did you know that in an attempt to improve the structure, foundation and quality of your family home, should you attempt to do so legally, seeking permits and approval of the “advisory” board, you will be charged tens of thousands of dollars for each hearing or appeal your neighbors seek, ad nauseum, regardless of whether even a variance is required by your plans?

I personally witnessed hearing after hearing where property owners were subjected to personal offensive behaviors by vigilante groups rounded up from other neighborhoods to condemn home improvement plans not even affecting their own neighborhood, just to make life miserable and stop a homeowner from improving their own property. This is under the CURRENT code structure.

Have you noticed that there is many a home in Kensington where the homes are riddled with termites, filth, unkempt, fire hazards and they are not held accountable — only those homeowners who want to IMPROVE their property suffer this process.

Have you noticed that John Gioia, who supposedly represents ALL of Kensington, has taken a strong position supporting the “steering committee” who continue to lobby for their plan, instead of working to increase his knowledge of the opinions of the entire community? Meetings held on this or that evening address a limited number of people. We have elderly residents, professionals who work, young parents with young children who must be cared for — these people are unable to appear for the “community hearings” — as a person very active in a variety of service organizations, I certainly would like a VOTE on what will happen in my neighborhood/community, and yet I have not been able to attend the hearings — so do I lose my vote? This is questionable behavior by a small group of well meaning persons but NOT to the benefit of the entire community.

When I purchased my home it had no facilities for a washer or dryer and a mere 1000 square feet. These are homes that served a different people in a different time. In order for Kensington to retain its property value, home owners must be able to improve their property and, in the process, improve our property values. We CANNOT penalize those who improve because of the FEARS of one or two hysterical neighbors. This ordinance must not pass. Thank you.

Kathleen Lopes

Dear Editor,

To say I am surprised by Supervisor Gioia’s editorial last month would be an understatement. To have him accuse Mr. Hertzner of “mischaracterizing facts and creating fear among residents” was the pot calling the kettle black. Mr. Gioia’s inflammatory statement “How would you feel if one day you noticed a construction project next door to your home and your view of Mt Tam. was being obliterated?” was unconscionable. The majority of homes in Kensington currently require that the neighborhood be noticed on construction projects. All neighbors surrounding the proposed project have the opportunity to voice their concerns and objections. This is done through the KMAC who hears all concerned parties and makes a recommendation to the county Zoning Administrator who then rules on the project. And what happens when the Zoning Administrator approves the project against neighbor's objections? Then neighbors have an opportunity to appeal to a Planning Commission. And what if after even more careful consideration by the Planning Commission the county still approves the project? Then the objecting neighbors can still appeal to the Board of Supervisors. On top of this, the prevailing party is told to pick up all of the county costs related to the appeals which can be tens of thousands of dollars. In addition, this process can take up to 18 months, eight public hearings, and grueling mediation. Yes it's true! I personally lived this tale and our addition didn't even require a variance nor did it obstruct a view. Since the spawn of this ordeal was a view related objection, it was shocking to read Supervisor Gioia's statement that "there is NO protection of views under current county law." How then do I characterize my experience, unlawful harassment? For someone who claims to be working in the best interest of the community why is he suggesting further limitation of his constituents' ability to pursue the "American dream," owning a home and realizing the rights associated with this ownership. ABCs of the FKL

By John Gossard

The Friends of the Kensington Library (FKL) are getting ready for their big annual book sale, which will fill the Kensington Community Center (Youth Hut) with a wide variety of great books on the weekend of May 10 and 11, coinciding with the Hilltop School Carnival and Mother's Day, for one of the busier weekends of the year in Kensington. At the March meeting, Adrian Jennings, the Book Sale Coordinator, told the group that he would like to see an increase in art books, history and biography hardbacks, as well as children's books. Currently he felt he did not have an adequate supply to meet the usual high demand for each of these categories at the upcoming sale. He would like you to look over your shelves for any volumes you might donate for the May sale. He said he is also happy to receive books of all types, with the possible exception of older travel books and texts, as these lose their appeal if they are not quite current. Remember, all donations qualify as charitable donations for tax purposes. Adrian may be reached at 524-2508 if you need help with getting books to the library during its hours of operation.

Drop Off Restored

The book donation box that was in at FIVE STAR VIDEO has now followed the video business into YOUNG'S MARKET. If you want an easy place to deposit your book donations, you will find this box has now relocated to Five Star's area in the rear of the market. Drop off a book next time you shop... or rent. FKL thanks to both YOUNG'S and FIVE STAR for their support of our library.

IT!

Answers the question of "What did who done?," but WHO remains to be seen.

This mystery persists as this column's deadline falls due on 3-10-03. But FKL is busy deciding which of several mystery writers with whom it is in contact would be best for the evening of April 28, at 7 p.m. That evening FKL will be pleased to again present a Mystery

Evening with a mystery writer talking about the writing of this popular mode of fiction.

Flyers will be posted prior to the event, if you would like to know who will speak, but past programs have all been interesting, being supported by the National Association of Mystery Writers. It is possible a second mystery writer evening may be added later this year, depending what FKL learns of the writers' availability and FKL's own ongoing schedule of activities.

Budget News

With all the cuts that have been announced lately, it was a pleasant surprise to learn from Kensington's Librarian, Barbara Ferguson, that she has learned that despite funding reductions, a decision has been made to keep the added hours of operation that we were so pleased to see a year ago. She said that the cuts would still result in reduced staff, with no current openings to be filled...and a reduction in materials budget. This later area is one that FKL will do its best to address by increased efforts to encourage larger and more numerous donations from businesses and FKL members in its fund drive, along with book sale activities. Barbara expressed her great appreciation and thanks for the support she has gotten from our community, through its support of FKL.

So we just pass it on to you, like a good book.

Children's Programs at the Library

Celebrate National Library Week with storyteller Kirk Waller on Tuesday evening, April 8 at 7 p.m. Kirk is a master storyteller, who uses pantomime and sounds to bring stories alive. This program is ideal for children 4 and older. This program is made available by the Friends of the Kensington Library.

Family story times for children of all ages are held every Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. (except April 8) and Saturday mornings at 10:30 a.m.

Kensington Symphony Orchestra

The Kensington Symphony Orchestra will present the third concert of its Silver Anniversary Season on April 12 at 8 p.m. The program will include Robert Schumann's "Symphony No. 3" and Saint-Saens' "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso," featuring 16-year old violinist Shoshana Kay, winner of the KSO 2002-2003 Young Soloist Competition.

Founded in 1977, the Kensington Symphony Orchestra includes local freelance musicians and accomplished amateurs. Lloyd Elliott has been Music Director for 13 seasons. Elliott is also an Instructor of music at Contra Costa College and conductor of the Santa Rosa Symphony.

The April 12 concert will be held at the Northminster Presbyterian Church, 454 Ashbury Ave., El Cerrito, across from El Cerrito High School. Tickets are available at the door for a suggested donation of $10; $8, seniors; and children free. For more information, call 524-4335.

The meeting will be held at the Northminster Presbyterian Church, 545 Ashbury, El Cerrito, across from the El Cerrito High Sports Field.

League of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters Richmond Area will meet on Tuesday, April 15. The annual business meeting will begin at 11:30 a.m., followed by lunch. Dr. Mitchell, the featured speaker, will discuss Senate Bill 921 introduced in February by Senator Sheila Kuehl.

Gillfillan and Castel Honored

Gretchen Gillfillan, Kensington, and Pat Castel, El Cerrito, were honored in Contra Costa College's Women's History Month Celebration in March for their years of civic volunteerism. Gillfillan and Castel were nominated for their awards by county supervisor John Gioia and the El Cerrito City Council, respectively.

Gillfillan's award was for "Community Advocacy." She moved to Kensington in 1958 with her husband Walter and three daughters, Gayle Gillfillan, Allison Rose and Catherine Ann Pacos. Trained as a teacher, she was recruited to work as a part-time researcher/teacher at UC Berkeley with the newly formed Elementary School Science Project. She soon joined Friends of the Kensington Library, and served on a committee that was exploring the possibility of having a "real" library built in Kensington. She was very active in the Kensington PTA, and was awarded with a Life Membership. Gillfillan retired from teaching in 1995. She became a member of the Kensington Park Advisory committee in 1996. More recently she has been involved in Kensington zoning and building issues. She was awarded the Contra Costa County Teacher of the Year award in 1978 and in 1995 received the Bay Area Girl Scout Council's DAISY award for excellence in incorporating environmental education into teaching.

Pat Castel received her award for "Civic Responsibility." Currently she is the volunteer coordinator for the El Cerrito Kensington Fire Department Neighborhood Emergency Assistance Teams (NEAT) program. She and her husband, Brad, have lived in El Cerrito for 17 years. The NEAT program emphasizes safety and preparedness and is free to everyone in the community. The California Emergency Services Association honored her with a statewide award for excellence in the field of emergency management.
