A PUBLICATION OF THE KENSINGTON COMMUNITY COUNCIL

VOLUME 69 NUMBER 6

Movie Night – 2 Thumbs Up!

Siskel and Ebert would have given the Kensington Community Council's first Family Movie Night two thumbs up!

Under unusually warm and clear skies about 40 families and friends – over 100 people in all – enjoyed a balmy June evening in the open air, watching Pixar's Toy Story 3. People brought blankets and chairs to lounge on while eating light suppers before the movie. Kids played with beach balls and munched on popcorn as the movie rolled at dusk.

The KCC sends thanks to all the people and businesses that made it possible to bring a movie night to Kensington. Pixar and the Gould family helped to provide the movie and many of the raffle items; Marvin Gardens Real Estate and Mechanics Bank and their enthusiastic staffs were ever-present as sponsors and participants. Thanks also go to Nation's for the donation of gift cards and to Arlington Wine and Spirits for a donated a case of wine for the raffle.

The Kensington Community Council was thrilled to be able to provide an evening's entertainment for the community. Energized by the success of the first movie night, the KCC Board will be announcing in an upcoming edition of the Outlook the next movie night – coming soon to a community center near you!

National Night Out - Tuesday, August 7th

Last year's National Night Out celebration involved over 37 million people in over fifteen thousand communities from all fifty states, Canadian cities, and U.S. territories and military bases, worldwide. NNO 2012 is expected to be even bigger.

The intent of this annual community-building campaign is to: (1) Heighten crime prevention awareness; (2) Generate support for, and participation in, local anti-crime programs; (3) Strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships; and (4) Send a message to criminals letting them know that neighborhoods are organized and fighting back.

Along with the traditional outside lights and front porch vigils, most cities and towns celebrate NNO with a variety of special neighborhood and city-wide events, such as block parties, cookouts, parades, festivals, safety fairs, youth events, and visits from local officials and law enforcement. Last year Kensington had a number of such gatherings – a number that grows every year. Look for the parties to start at around 6pm, this year, on Tuesday, August 7th.

NNO Coordinator, Officer Doug Wilson, invites all Kensington residents to start thinking about having NNO parties at their homes or on their blocks. According to previous years' hosts, it's simple and it's fun. Doug will help you with materials, suggestions, solutions, and support.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

More Crime Needed to Bring Unit Cost Down?

In a letter published in the June Outlook, one writer suggests that because Kensington has a low crime rate, the taxpayers are paying a very high price for each of the relatively few crimes actually committed in our town. Therefore, he appears to suggest, if more crimes were committed, we'd be paying a lower price for each crime. What a deal.

While it certainly is true that investigating crimes can be costly, responding to crime is hardly the department's only responsibility. It seems obvious to me that the department's most important job is preventing crime – along with the trauma and expense that crime brings...

Preventing crime entails, among other things, frequent and attentive patrolling of our neighborhoods. It requires periodic officer trainings. And it requires developing and maintaining cooperative relationships with neighboring police departments. It also means reaching out to educate willing citizens on how best to discourage criminals from preying on Kensington homes and businesses.

As evidenced by our community's relatively low crime rate, Kensington's police dept. does a highly creditable job of preventing crime. And that is why, in my opinion, the taxes our household pays towards police svcs are a good investment.

Kathy Stein
Beverly Rd.

A letter to Chief Harman appeared in the June issue of the Kensington Outlook detailing the number of violent and property crimes that occurred in Kensington between 2001 and 2010. The article takes the police budget and compares it to the number of these crimes and shows a cost of $18,000 per crime and $100,000+ per cleared crime. The inference seemed to be that these costs were high and law enforcement in Kensington was not as cost effective as it needs to be.

I would agree that cost effectiveness is a critical factor in any budget. Were the police budget (i.e. the number of police on duty) reduced there would be a lower cost per crime, but it also likely would be followed by an increased number of crimes. Ironically, increasing the number of crimes would further lower the cost per individual crime. I also believe that a reduction in the police budget would result in a decrease in the number of crimes cleared thus further increasing this cost.

It appears to me that cost effectiveness is a valid point, but it also needs to take into account the operational efficacy and deterrent value of an adequate police presence in this community.

Is Pretending
Too Much to Ask?

Dear Editor,

Thank you for your continuing coverage of Kensington's ongoing negotiations with Bay View Refuse and Recycling Services. One question: do you think the title of your article in the May issue of the Outlook (Bay View Recycling Services Back at Trough) is a good example of unbiased reporting? It would certainly seem as though the intention was to portray Bay View in a negative light. Does the Editor (or the KCC) feel that the community needs help formulating an opinion on Bay View? Given that the Outlook's bias has been well established with respect to the KPPCSD, seeing evidence of this bias creeping into other community issues isn't exactly a welcome development. Can you at least pretend to be neutral on the issues, or is that too much to ask?

Eyleen Nadolny

Mind Numbed, Resident
Remains Baffled

Editor, Kensington Outlook,

I am shaking my head in disbelief after reading the latest issue of the Outlook. The full page explanation by Chief Harman doesn't explain what I need to know after having been assessed $500 a year to support the Police Department. I recall one of the justifications given for the assessment were the "excellent" crime statistics Chief Harman had announced with "justifiable" pride. Now we are told that for 2008, 2009 and 2010 those statistics were inflated by an average of 47.53% a year. And where are the complete 2011 figures? The Chief's full-page explanation was mind numbing. I waded through it and remain baffled. We are told in numbing detail what happened when we know what happened; 47.53% average inflation of reported statistics is what happened. WHY it happened is what is important. How in heavens name are the people who did the "how it was done" unable to say why they did it. The Chief/GM is the accountable official. I think we should be told why it happened. We are told that no one knows and I think that's quite astounding when only two people including the Chief were involved in the recording and presenting of the falsely inflated figures. Maybe I'm wrong but I recall being told that we need 11 sworn officers to give us the protection we need and that too was a reason for the $500 a year assessment. Now I see that we have only 9 sworn officers and that 5 are the supervisors of the remaining 4 officers. Will someone please tell me where the money is going and why we do not have the 11 sworn officers we have been told are needed to afford us an acceptable level of protection. For me this raises the question of what the Chief's total compensation package is. Where is the truth? And why isn't KPPCSD alarmed in the face of highly disquieting facts? The taxpayers of Kensington have a right to clear and unambiguous answers about how and why our money is being spent.

Town Morphing Into Bowl of Spaghetti?

Dear Editor:

The disfiguration of our natural setting and beautiful views with the black communication wires strung in senseless abundance all over the place is self-destruct(ive). Do we want to disfigure and destroy our community? There must be another way. We need to find a solution before we become a bowl of black spaghetti.

Sincerely,
Ruth Roots

KCC SUMMER DAY CAMP 2012

KCC Summer Day Camp opened with a game of kickball and ended the day with the traditional counselor vs. camper dodgeball game. Campers enjoyed “the sawing, sanding and hammering” with Sandy in carpentry. Each week camp introduces a specialty teacher for an artful experience. July brings golf, gymnastics, jewelry for guys and gals plus cooking, and drumming. School pals play ping-pong together, share Lego creations and make time for friendship.

Located in the East Bay hills at 59 Arlington Ave. in Kensington, the Kensington Community Council (KCC) Summer Day Camp is for children entering 1st through 6th grades in the Fall 2012. The camp runs from June 11th through Aug. 17, 2012, Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00pm. Campers may enroll on a weekly basis. Cost is $225 per week/per camper. There is a 5% sibling discount. Extended care 8:00 - 9:00am and 5:00 - 6:00pm is available for an additional fee.

Each week, campers enjoy a field trip by private bus to points of interest around the Bay Area, such as Angel Island, Scandia, Oakland Zoo, and the Bladium in Alameda. Kim Roots, our KASEP tennis instructor, continues to teach campers tennis 3 days a week. Different hand-on crafts, such as gymnastics, cooking, jewelry creation, and games with Kim are afternoon workshops taught by talented specialty teachers.

Mollie Hudson Graduates, is Named to Dean's List
A graduate of Urban School of SF, Mollie Hudson, the daughter of local residents, David Hudson and Jan Schreiber, graduated with a degree in history from Macalester College in St. Paul, Minnesota, this May. Based on a grade point average of 3.75 or above, Mollie was also named to Macalester's Dean's List for academic achievement during the spring semester of the 2011-2012 school year. Go, Mollie!

Carnival a Grand Success
An estimated 500 parents, kids, and other Kensington residents thronged to this past May's Spring Carnival at Hilltop Elementary. The fundraiser for the school netted over $18,000 – funds that will be sorely needed with the failure of Proposition K on the June election ballot – and a new record for the event. The spring carnival is the biggest fundraiser for the PTA, which provides educational assemblies for all grades, up-to-date emergency packs for each student, safety programs, such as the crossing flags installed at intersections throughout Kensington, and advocacy efforts to inform the community about legislation to improve education in our state. Hilltop receives no federal funding and has seen its state funding continually cut to the point where they're operating on a bare minimum budget, with the parent groups having to help purchase basic supplies like paper(!), and fund essential programs like reading intervention. Congrats to Carnival co-chairs, Kim Keller and Rochelle Clewer, and all the volunteers and participants that made the event such a great success! (Jeesh – paper?!)

Ex-Hilltop School Teacher, Rob Johns – now Truckin'!
After 20 years of teaching, last year, beloved Hilltop Elementary instructor, Rob John, decided to retire from teaching and go into business for himself. His original dream of opening a brick-and-mortar restaurant has morphed into a trendy food truck, and his business, WhipOut! – affectionately named after his two whippets – will serve artisan American comfort food, with truck-made smoked meats, cheeses, sauces, and pickles. Sliders, desserts, specials, small-brew root beer, lemonade, and sweet tea are all on the menu. Rob says, "Quality, value, and flavor – mix those with wit and whimsy, and you've got WhipOut!" Join Rob for his opening day, featuring live music and balloons, ("and whatever else I can pull out of my hat") on Sunday, July 15th at the Kensington Elementary School playground, from 4-7pm. Then catch him Sunday, July 22nd, from 10am to 2pm, at the Kensington Farmer's Market. Check out the WhipOut! Project at www.Kickstarter.com.

Community Emergency Response Team Training
Concerned residents with a common interest in disaster preparedness attended El Cerrito/Kensington's CERT training in May. The newly trained include: Shirley Wang, Renne Solari, Jen Treuting, Ruth Richards, Chelsea Liu, Cynthia Scott, Teresa Albro, Sarah Sirchuk, Albert Ibrahim, and the Westby family. CERT Program Coordinator, Battalion Chief Dave Gibson, and his team taught this one-day class essential information designed to better prepare us, our families, and our community for an earthquake or fire disaster. More information on upcoming classes is available at www.kensingtonfire.org.

Grads Keep on Comin'!
Additional graduating seniors, who were unable to be present for the May group photo, include Gabriel Reynoso-Palley (on his way to Yale), Stephanie Ribet (off to Princeton), Maddie Kirkby (Albany High to UC Davis), Martin Cotteral (ECHS to San Jose State Univ.), Brian Seeger (ECHS to Univ. of Wisconsin, Madison), Taylor Doty (ECHS to Duke), and Katrina Zhelesnyak (on her way to Georgetown). Congrats, grads!

Shooting Cats

To My Kensington Neighbors,

On a splendid Saturday afternoon in May, one of my two cats was brutally shot with an air gun in the vicinity of my Kenyon Ave. house, which lies on the route to Kensington School. The poor cat had to undergo emergency surgery – the lead shot completely shattered his right rear heel bone – and now remains in a cast for eight weeks, immobilized in a cage. Two metal fragments removed during surgery are in the possession of the Kensington Police Department; a third is lodged in the cat’s body.

Airsoft guns, air pistols, air rifles, pellet guns, BB guns – all of these things, thanks to strong gun lobbies – are legal to possess in the state of California, and do not require a license or background check for their use. But as this terrible incident and too many others suggest, these projectile weapons can be just as dangerous as powder-fired ones. Because they use compressed air to propel the bullet, instead of an explosive like gunpowder, they have no “report” and are almost impossible to hear. But their impact on flesh and bone is unmistakable.

It should go without saying that these weapons have no place in a sane community. A feline flaneur, or for that matter, a squirrel, can be effectively chased with a water pistol. Anything beyond that is simple cruelty.

Crime Cost Data

Letter to the Editor:

Thanks to Casey Bowden for his crime cost data. Can we have earnings data?

Unhappily, these data will have little impact. The issues are political, not economic. Long lists of non-crime activities will be published to show the PD’s “true worth”. More basically, Bowden’s data will be of little interest to Kensington folks, who have long been committed to high cost - feeble benefits from public services and employees from CCC to DC.

But the brouhaha is enormously entertaining. A resident is delighted that police showed up at his house. This is known as task performance. It is what people do at work, usually for much less than $100,000 a year (overtime, overtime). The inverted organization chart: I was amused to meet again the old management joke, “Where the inmates run the asylum.”

Board members claim to set policy. But policy is made in Sacramento by the police and fire (and “education”) establishments, along with the people they elect and control. A savings of $20,000 is announced: a nice laugh here.

While herself engaging in admirable Tea-Party behavior – speaking truth to power – Cathie Kosel finds that a good way to confound her establishment opponents is to accuse them of Tea-Party behavior. The ultimate political insult here, if not in Podunk. Hilarious!

Leo P. Ruth

Leo P. Ruth, prominent educator in teacher education and in the teaching of reading and writing, died peacefully at his home in Kensington, on May 3, 2012 after a brief illness. He was 85 years old.

Leo was born in Sacramento and grew up in Chico, California. After high school, he attended Chico State College and graduated with a B.A. in history. Then, at the University of California, Berkeley, he earned a Master’s Degree. Later, he studied for, and was awarded, a PhD from UC Berkeley. Both advanced degrees were in the field of education.

Leo started out teaching English at Yuba City High School. After 3 years he moved to the Bay Area, where he taught English and reading at San Leandro High School for 10 years, also serving as English Department Chairman. Then he was hired by the Graduate School of Education at UC Berkeley as a Supervisor of Teacher Education, where he remained for 32 years, retiring in 1991.

Hundreds of teachers throughout Central California and beyond – Leo’s former student teachers – remember with pride and gratitude his firm guidance and warm, empathic support in the formative days of their own careers. Leo was committed to enhancing and recognizing the importance of classroom teachers in their struggles against uninformed social and political influences.

Professional publications include “Who Has the Power? Policymaking and Politics in the English Language Arts,” in Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts, ed. James Squire, et al (2003); editor of the “Assessment” section in Encyclopedia of English Studies and Language Arts, Alan Purves, Gen. Ed. (1994); author, with Sandra Murphy, of “Designing Writing Tasks for the Assessment of Writing” (1988); and editor of two editions of reading textbooks for 7th and 8th grade.

Leo was also an influential member of the National Council of Teachers of English, the California Association of Teachers of English, and the Central California Curriculum Study Commission.

Leo’s life was all about books and reading. He was a founding member of a small, dedicated reading group of older academics like himself who still looked to him for advice on how to get the best out of a book.

He also loved theatre, state fairs, jazz festivals, travel, and cats – interests he shared with Deborah, the love of his life, and wife of 43 years, by whom he is survived. He’s also survived by two brothers – Al Ruth and his wife Diana, and Leland Ruth and his wife Therese, five nephews and two nieces, plus seven grand-nieces and nephews.

A private interment was held at Sunset View Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be sent to The Diablo Vista Retired Teachers Association and The Curriculum Study Commission of the Central California Council of Teachers of English, the Landmark Heritage Society of the Berkeley City Club, the Aurora Theatre, or the Berkeley Repertory Theatre.

sanship and avoidance of gridlock. This, of course, was written after the 2010 elections when those nasty Tea-Party people had the gall to engage in conviction politics. Before 2010, the AARP’s army of lobbyists helped push through federal control of health care with only one vote from the other party in the House.

Meanwhile, after helping ban foie gras, Nancy Skinner shows up to honor the founder of the “Planned Parenthood” (nice euphemism, that) Center. The State lets you do whatever you want with little human creatures – no consensus needed – but July 1, baby ducks will be protected into adulthood. Lucky them. How bipartisan is Skinner’s list of honored activists? Just kidding folks.

Great fun most of it. More, please.

The Value of a Crime
NOT Committed

Dear Editor:

I would like to add my thoughts on the discussion initiated by Casey Bowden’s letter in the June Outlook.

In the average each year, how many crimes DO NOT occur in Kensington because of our highly visible police force? The presence of our police – with time to patrol residential areas – encourages those intent upon committing crimes to simply go elsewhere.

Lack of crimes to solve is a good measure of the effectiveness of our police.
